

WHAT

The creation of “One Year of White Pages”, a series of pocket sized agendas.

HOW

A special project produced by Nava Design in Milano, this system of agendas were created playing on the months of the year. Fine hole punches mark the different months.. One hole for January, two for March... and so on.

WHY

The project was about taking a very practical item, and making it a clever and beautiful design object. HMG is currently completing a full series of note-books based on this piece and will be in stores December of 2007.
